

Strategies for
Ecology Education,
Diversity, and Sustainability

What is S.E.E.D.S.?

Strategies for Ecology Education, Diversity and Sustainability (SEEDS) is a flagship award-winning education program of the Ecological Society of America.

- Mission: to diversify & advance the ecology profession through hands-on, engaging experiences that nurture the interest of underrepresented students to participate, & lead in ecology.
- We provide opportunities to interact with a diverse group of ecologists & other motivated students to both broaden & deepen students' understanding of ecology & potential careers.
